For our Legitimate Interests in Managing our Business: this is one of the reasons (a legal basis) we are allowed to process your data for. In order to manage our business effectively, we need to process your Personal Data* in this way. Before Processing* your data for this reason, we have carefully considered whether it will cause you any negative consequences and whether we can justify this Processing*.

General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR): the General Data Protection Regulation is European law which came into force on 25 May 2018. It builds on existing rules and makes new rules about how a person's Personal Data* must be treated. Its aim is to make sure that all companies and entities that handle Personal Data* respect and protect it, so that people's privacy is taken seriously.

IP Address: is a unique identifying number given to a device, that allows that device to communicate with other devices over a computer network like the internet.

7. How long do we hold your Personal Data* for

We will keep your Personal Data* for as long as reasonably necessary to fulfil the purposes outlined in Section 3 of this Notice and to comply with our legal and regulatory obligations.

This will involve retaining some of your Personal Data* for a reasonable period of time after your policy or your relationship with us has ended or after your claim is closed.

If you would like further information about the periods for which your personal data* will be stored, please contact us using the contact details in section 1 of this Notice.

We also retain certain limited details beyond the above time periods in order to validate and handle any claims we receive after the statute of limitations has expired (late claims) and any claims we receive where the claimant was not aware of the damage until a long time after it was caused (latent claims). In these circumstances we retain information such as the policyholder's name, the names of any named drivers, policy start and finish dates and cover details.

For late claims we will hold the data for a period of up to 25 years from the lapse or cancellation date of your policy or from the completion of a claim.

For latent claims we will hold the data for up to 60 years from the lapse or cancellation date of your policy. In both cases, the data will only be used in the event that a new claim is made by or against you.

8. Your rights to access, correct, delete, portability and restrict the use of your Personal Data*

As a data subject you have the following rights in relation to how we process your Personal Data*:

- a. The Right to Withdraw Consent
- b. The Right of Access: the right to know what data we hold, why we hold it and how we process it
- c. The Right of Rectification: the right to correct any incorrect information we hold about you
- d. The Right of Erasure/Right to be Forgotten
- e. The Right to Data Portability: the right to get a copy of the information we have about you or have it sent to another Data Controller*
- f. The Right not to be subject to Automated Decision Making*, including Profiling
- g. The Right to Object: the right to stop us Processing* your data if you do not think we have a good reason for doing so
- h. The Right to Restrict Processing* of Your Data: the right to restrict the Processing* of your information, for example while we check the accuracy of your information

Using your Rights

If you need to use one of these rights please send your request in writing to our Data Protection Officer at:

Liberty Insurance

Dublin Road

Cavan

Co. Cavan

Or email: DataProtectionOfficer@libertyinsurance.ie

a. The Right to Withdraw Consent

If we are relying on your consent to allow us to process your information, you can withdraw your consent at any time. From that point on we would no longer be able to carry out the Processing* we were carrying out with your consent. Any Processing* we carried out before you withdrew your consent would remain valid.

We do not generally rely on consent for Processing* Personal Data*. In relation to the Processing* of Personal Data* we carry out in the course of running our business, we generally rely on other legal bases, such as, the basis that the Processing* is required for the purpose of entering into and performing a contract with you. More details on the legal bases on which we rely are set out in Section 3.

b. Right of Access

You have the right to be given:

- details about the Personal Data* we have about you;
- details about why and how we process that data;
- a copy of the Personal Data* we hold about you.

The above is called a data subject access request, which you can make by contacting our Data Protection Officer.

When you make a Data Subject Access Request please:

- give us as much information as possible to help us identify you (such as your name, address and policy or claim number) and the information you want access to;
- allow up to one month for us to send this information to you;
- note there is no charge, once we do not consider the request to be unjustified or excessive. If we consider a request to be unjustified or excessive we may either deal with the request and charge a fee, or refuse the request. A fee may be applicable if you ask us to send you further copies of the information.

c. Right of Rectification

You have the right to have us correct any inaccuracies in the information we have about you. In certain cases, it is required by the terms of your insurance policy.

d. Right of Erasure/Right to be Forgotten

In certain circumstances you have a right to have the Personal Data* concerning you erased. However, if it is during the term of your policy, then it may affect our ability to provide certain services under your insurance policy.

You can ask us to delete your Personal Data* where one of the below situations applies;

- a. the Personal Data* is no longer necessary for the purposes for which they were collected;
- b. where we were relying on your consent to process the data and you no longer consent, and no other legal ground permits the Processing*;
- c. where you object to the Processing* and there are no overriding legitimate grounds for the Processing*;
- d. your Personal Data* has been unlawfully processed;
- e. your Personal Data* must be erased for compliance with a legal obligation.

However, your right to be forgotten will not apply in certain circumstances, including where the Processing* of your data is needed for one of the below reasons;

- a. for exercising the right of freedom of expression and information;
- b. for compliance with a legal obligation, such as the performance of a contract (i.e. your insurance policy or a quote) or compliance with legislation (for example if you are in the Republic of Ireland, the Consumer Protection Code 2012, which requires us to retain data for at least 6 years);

- c. for statistical purposes, where the right to be forgotten is likely to render impossible or seriously impair the achievement of the objectives of that Processing*; or
- d. for the establishment, exercise or defence of legal claims.

Where you ask for your Personal Data* to be deleted, we will need to keep a record of your request so we know that the deletion has happened and why, as required by the Central Bank of Ireland. This record will have as much information as possible deleted, as asked for by you, but will correctly show the deletion happened. We will keep the record in such a way as to remove as much of the information you have asked us to delete as possible, while accurately reflecting the activity.

In some cases we may need to keep some information to make sure all of your preferences are properly respected. For example, we cannot erase all information about you where you have also asked us not to send you marketing material. Otherwise, we would delete your preference not to receive marketing material.

e. Right to Data Portability

You have a right to get a copy of your Personal Data* that you gave us in a structured, commonly used and machine-readable format. You may also ask us to send this Personal Data* to another Data Controller* (such as another financial service provider), where technically feasible. Where we do this, we will not be responsible for any action of the other Data Controller* in respect of the transferred data.

This right of data portability only applies to Personal Data* that we process on the legal basis of consent or for the purpose of entering or performing a contract and where the Processing* is carried out by automated means.

f. Right not to be subject to Automated Decision Making*, including Profiling

You have a right not to have decisions made which are based on the Processing* of your Personal Data* by a computer only including profiling which has an impact on your legal rights or similarly significantly affects you.

However, there are circumstances where we have the right to use Automated Decision Making* and profiling. We can only do this where the decision is needed for entering into a contract or for performing that contract (i.e. your policy of insurance or quote) where it is authorised by law or where you have provided your explicit consent.

Where we use Automated Decision Making* you have the right to have a person involved in the decision making process so that decisions are not based on automated Processing* alone. You also have the right to give your views on these decisions and to contest these decisions.

g. Right to Object

You have the right to object to the Processing* of your Personal Data* which we process on the basis of a legitimate interest. We will then stop Processing* this Personal Data* unless we can show compelling legitimate grounds for the Processing* that outweighs your interests, rights and freedoms or unless we need to use it in relation to legal claims.

If you wish to use this right, please contact us setting out the reason why you want us to stop Processing* your Personal Data* based on your particular situation. We will then check whether your rights outweigh our grounds for Processing* the data.

Please note that if you object to us Processing* your data, we may not be able to provide certain services or benefits under your insurance policy.

h. Right to Restrict Processing* of Your Data

In the below circumstances you have the right to restrict the Processing* of your Personal Data*:

- a. where you think the Personal Data* we have is not correct. We will restrict the Processing* of your Personal Data* while we check the accuracy of your Personal Data*;
- b. where the Processing* is unlawful and you ask that the Processing* be restricted but you do not want the personal data* to be deleted; or
- c. where we no longer need the Personal Data* for the purposes of the Processing* but you need it for the establishment, exercise or defence of a legal claim

We will also restrict the Processing* of your Personal Data* where you have objected to Processing* under the Right to Object, while we check if your rights outweigh our grounds for Processing* the Personal Data*.

When Processing* is restricted, your Personal Data* will only be processed with your consent or for the establishment, exercise or defence of legal claims or for the protection of the rights of other people or for reasons of important public interest.

We will tell you before we lift the restriction of Processing*.

Please note that if you want to restrict the Processing* of your Personal Data* while your insurance policy is current, your policy may need to be suspended or terminated. Also, if you are coming near to the end of your policy, and you request to restrict Processing*, we may not be able to prepare and send you a renewal notice to invite you to renew your insurance policy.

9. Automated Decision Making*

Automated decisions are legal or important decisions that may affect you that are based on Processing* your Personal Data* by a computer only. There is no human involvement in making these decisions.

We collect Personal Data* from you, as part of the quote, inception and renewal process, to include medical and criminal conviction data. We get this data from you, insurance and geographical databases and publicly available information.

Automated decisions to include profiling (described below) are made by us as part of our underwriting process when examining, accepting or declining risks in order to charge an appropriate premium. We use mathematical and actuarial methods of calculating risk to do this.

This information is used to decide a risk rating and will apply to your risk profile to determine your premium. We also engage in profiling for marketing reasons and to report on analytics. Profiling is the Processing* of your Personal Data* by a computer, to assess personal aspects about you such as your personal preferences, your location, your interests and your behaviours.

We collect Personal Data* from you, such as your IP Address* to better understand your product preferences. This profile is created by putting this Personal Data* through a computer system that has set parameters. We use this profile to present marketing messages that suit your personal preferences and to report on the type of visitors to our website.

This information is used to decide on the most appropriate marketing offer for you, subject to your preferences. For more information please see Section 11.

Please see Section 8 on what your Personal Data* rights are and your right not to be subject to Automated Decision Making, including profiling.
